

Satisfy You

(Verse 1)

I used to think love was effort
So I gave you all I had
Turns out you were grading papers
While I was writing poems in my songs
You smiled like you meant it
But your eyes were already gone

(Chorus)

Hope he checks all your boxes
Even the ones made for me
Hope he laughs at your stories
And pretends he hasn't heard them before
Hope he loves your conditions
And the fine print you forgot to show me
Find someone who'll satisfy you
Since I wasn't the one, apparently

(Verse 2)

You kept a list I couldn't see
Of things I knew I'd never be
I tried to guess, I tried to bend
But you were chasing things not meant
Now you've found a different lover
Someone who is like no other

(Bridge)

I wasn't broken, just misaligned
You weren't cruel, just calibrated
We were almost something beautiful
But almost doesn't satisfy

(Chorus)

Hope he checks all your boxes
Even the ones made for me
Hope he laughs at your stories
And pretends he hasn't heard them before
Hope he loves your conditions
And the fine print you forgot to show me
Find someone who'll satisfy you
Since I wasn't the one, apparently
