

I Owe You For The Tears You Cried

(Verse 1)

I used to call it love, but played it cool
Kept my heart aloof. Made silence the rule
You reached for me in midnight's ache
I turned away for comfort's sake

(Chorus)

I broke the vows I never spoke
Left you dancing with the heart I broke
You stayed through storms. I should have tried
I owe you for the tears you cried
Every drop a silent plea
You gave me love, you trusted me
Now I'm the one who cannot hide
I owe you for the tears you cried

(Verse 2)

I watched your hope begin to close
You kept it quiet, so no one knows
You gave me grace I never earned
And better memories began to burn

(Chorus)

I broke the vows I never spoke
Left you dancing with the heart I broke
You stayed through storms. I should have tried
I owe you for the tears you cried
Every drop a silent plea
You gave me love, you trusted me
Now I'm the one who cannot hide
I owe you for the tears you cried

(Bridge)

If I could trade my pride for peace
Undo the nights I let you freeze
I'd hold your hurt like sacred ground
And never let it fall back down

(Chorus)

I broke the vows I never spoke
Left you dancing with the heart I broke
You stayed through storms. I should have tried
I owe you for the tears you cried
Every drop a silent plea
You gave me love, you trusted me
Now I'm the one who cannot hide
I owe you for the tears you cried
