

I Would Have Given Everything

[Verse 1]

I kept the porch light burning, long after you were gone
Told myself you'd turn around, when nights got way too long
I held on to the memories, like they were all I had Trying to rewrite every moment so the ending wasn't bad

[Chorus]

I would have given everything to have you back again
Every promise, every heartbeat, every loss and every win
But the truth is hard and heavy, when it settles in the end
I would have given everything to have you back again

[Verse 2]

I searched for signs and shadows in the spaces you once filled
Pretending I could change the past, if only I stayed still
But time keeps moving forward, even when the heart resists
And I learned too late that love is more fragile than we admit

[Chorus]

I would have given everything to have you back again
Every promise, every heartbeat, every loss and every win
But the truth is hard and heavy, when it settles in the end
I would have given everything to have you back again

[Bridge]

If I could speak across the distance to the place where you let go
I'd tell you all the words I saved, all the things you'll never know
But echoes can't replace you and wishes can't pretend
Still I'd give up everything to have you back again

[Chorus]

I would have given everything to have you back again
Every promise, every heartbeat, every loss and every win
But the truth is hard and heavy, when it settles in the end
I would have given everything to have you back again
