

What Makes You Think I Still Love You

[Verse 1]

What makes you think I still love you?
Because I drive by your house every now and then?
It's just the long way home, that's what I tell myself
And I like the way it feels to see your porch light glow again
What makes you think you're still on my mind?
Because I text you when the night gets slow?
Maybe I just miss the way you answer
Or maybe it's more than I let show

[Chorus]

What makes you think I still love you?
Maybe it's the way I never really let go
Just because I'm quiet, doesn't mean I hide it
You can hear the truth in what I don't say out loud
So, what makes you think I still love you?
Perhaps, you already know

[Verse 2]

What makes you think I'm not over you?
Because I sent you flowers on your birthday?
I told myself it's just a simple kindness
But my heart had a little more to say
What makes you think there's something left here?
Because I smile when you say my name?
I try to play it cool, but baby, some things never really fade

[Bridge]

I could pretend it's nothing, but you read me like a song
Every little thing I do has been saying it all along

[Chorus]

What makes you think I still love you?
Maybe it's the way I keep finding my way back
Just because I'm subtle, doesn't mean it's subtle
You can feel it in the spaces where the words fall flat
So, what makes you think I still love you?
Perhaps, it's every little act